

What was the most important topic you learned in chapter 8 and why?

Everything! Since I haven't used or read about IK Bones before I found it all to be very interesting, including the fact that the "IK" stands for "inverse kinetics". Really, the most important thing I learned from this chapter is how easy it is to use IK Bones. This new Flash feature is going to give Flash animations a whole new level of realism. I found the three exercises to be excellent tutorials on how to set up symbol and shape.
